WHEN DO YOU MOVE?

About 75 people attended the meeting of real estate agents, landlords and tenants, at Old City Hall yesterday afternoon, called taken hold on the public mind. Three for the purpose of considering the proposed is an almost universal superstition that change of moving day from April 1 to May 1. Thomas Liggett presided and stated briefly the objects of the meeting. briefly the objects of the meeting.

TO START THE DISCUSSION.

D. C. Martin said be understood the legal by C. Marcin said he understood the legal soving day was April 1, and the only way it build be changed would be through the Legis-store. He understood, further that the city as arrangements made for collection of water ents so that the fiscal year ends March St.

A RADICAL SUGGESTION. Beeze suggested that it would suit the farmers better if the moving day was changed to November 1, and offered an amendment to that effect, but the amendment received no

LIVING ON UNPAVED STREETS.

Frank Van Gorder, of the East End, favored the change, because it affects the poorer and middle classes. The rich can live on the paved streets; but those who do not own their own property must be satisfied with less improved ricts. Mr. Pettitt thought the interests o other for the motion of the tenants had been present to give an expression on the matter.

After some further discussion of a minor importance the meeting adjourned until some future date, when an effort will be made to have a fuller representation of the tenants.

Brown-Sequard's Elixir of Life. A distinguished French physician by the name of Brown-Sequard has recently made some declarations before the Society of Bi-A Meeting Held to Consider a Change in Flitting Day.

OPINIONS PRO AND CON ADVANCED.

Some declarations before the Society of Biology in Paris which have, with various additions and distortions, been heralded to every part of the civilized world. The assertions that have created such attention were neither wonderful nor unusual, and have gained their chief notoriety from the source from which they emanated. He merely claimed that he had discovered a facility which he received from extent clauds. Arguments in Favor of the People who do the Moving Act.

ADJOURNED WITHOUT DECISION

The Moving Act of recently killed animals, which fluid, if injected into the blood of old people, would produce an exhibitantion of considerable duration, seemingly rejuvenating the decrepit and bringing back youthful vigor to the aged. This has been claimed to be true

He stated that the real estate agents are not taking an interest in the movement benot taking an interest in the movement because of personal interests as they have nothing to win or lose, no matter how the question is disposed of, but they are agitating the matter because they know the wants of the people, many of whom have asked them to change moving day if possible. He stated the general objections to moving on the lat of April. The variegated nature of the weather, the concentration of business to a short period of the year and the sickness resulting from an exposure to bad weather all come in for condemnation by those interested in the matter. dream of a funciful speculation and the phantom of a diseased imagination. Ex-William H. Phipps, of 2918 Penn avenue, offered a motion that in future May 1 be fixed as the annual moving day. A discussion then followed which, while entirely devoid of any great enthusiasm, showed very plainly that the general sentiment of those present was against any change at the present time. Captain B. Robinson, of Allegheny, said he feared that those in whose interest the meeting was endeavoring to legislate were those who moved two or three times a year, and it wouldn't make any difference when the annual moving day was, they would move whenever they got rendy anythow. sooner such hallucinations are destroyed the sooner will the care of the body in health and the cure of the body in disease take the the cure of the body in disease take the place of vague longings and mysterious anticipations. There are three remedies that stand approved by science, experience and common sense. One provided with these can afford so bid adieu to vagaries and dispense with the use of charms and elixirs. With the Tonic, Pe-ru-na, that touches into new life the least onset of flagging strength or wasted vitality; with the laxative, Man-with new cures for these affections. Man-a-

lin is so perfectly reliable as a laxative, n-lin, that detily stimulates every declin-ing function or clogged excretion, and the blood-purifier, Ln-cu-pi-n, that removes the slightest blood taint or disfiguring eruption, one can enjoy the keen pleasures of healthy D. P. Black said the meeting was considering the question as it affects the cities of Pittsthe question as it affects the cities of Pitts-burg and Aliegheny, and the farmers had nothing to do with it now. Mr. Black favored the motion to change the day to May.

John J. Pettitt threw cold water on the mo-tion by saying that he thought a mietake was heing made to try to pass such a motion at such a meeting. There had been such a clamor for something because it would benefit the tenants. Not a tenant had been heard favoring the acheme. Mr. Pettitt said he was satisfied the people are not anxious for a change or they would have been present. The size of the andence representing over 300,000 people showed that the mass of the people are not stirred up. existence, while others are hazing anxiously up and down the earth in search of occult potencies and magic mixtures. In the midst of ephemeral cures which enjoy brief reputations and sink into oblivion again, Pe-ru-na, Man-a-lin and La-cu-pi-a nave made a stendy and sublimital growth, until they are recognized as standard family med-icines, to be found in thousands of homes from Maine to California. That Pe-ru-na can always be relied upon in the treatment of all affections of the throat, bronchist tubes and lungs, diseases of the kidneys and bladder, and female weakness, is a fact care whether the change was made or not. He knew tenants who had moved heretofore at all times in the year and supposed they would do Thos. H. Wilson, of the East End, said he represented 55 tenants, all of whom are in favor

T. W. Taylor said he had hoped that he would hear something about the sanitary condition of the city and how it was effected by the annual moving day. He said he thought the people who favored the change must be subject to spring fever and wanted moving day postponed a month for their benefit. This remark brought Dr. Beeze to his feet again, and he said he knew people who had spring fever all the time, and he guessed they would die with it.
